

Dear <<First Name>>,

November Employee and Volunteer of the Month

Riverside County Parks strives for excellence in all aspects and in order to achieve this, excellent employees and volunteers are crucial. We all know that completing even the standard requirements of any RivCoParks job takes dedication, but going above and beyond the basic commitments of the job is what distinguishes an excellent employee or volunteer. For the month of November, two individuals were nominated and selected as Employee and Volunteer of the Month: Employee Millie Gonzales of Park Headquarters and Volunteer Robyn Clinedinst of Rancho Jurupa Park.

Employee

Millie Gonzalez is an exceptional employee who is a pleasure to work with and possesses a work ethic that is a fine example to all District employees. Millie is recognized as employee-of-the-month for seamlessly incorporating the District Work Plan and RivCoParks' Values into her work. On a regular basis, she maintains outstanding service, teamwork and perspective with colleagues and customers while always keeping a smile on her face. Millie is not one to push things aside; she gets the job done promptly and accurately and has proven to be an extremely valuable asset to the Parks District.

Volunteer

Volunteers are vital to the day-to-day functions at each of our parks and RivCoParks does its best to recognize all volunteers and commend a job well done. This month, Robyn Clinedinst is recognized for her above-and-beyond commitment and support at Rancho Jurupa Park. She is known for her friendliness and outgoing personality as well as setting an outstanding example of remarkable service, networking, stewardship, teamwork and the ability to connect with all those around her. As a volunteer, she demonstrates that RivCoParks' Values can be integrated into every aspect of our work.

Whether an employee or volunteer, you can always contribute something unique and valuable. Embrace your distinct abilities and share them with peers. Be the example in your group. Set your goal and take the challenge to be the next Employee or Volunteer of the Month!
